

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SCIENCES

NTT Teacher of the Year Nominations

The CHHS NTT Teacher of the Year award recognizes teaching excellence in the college by non- Tenure-track faculty. This includes classroom teaching and indirect teaching. Nominees should exhibit excellence in instruction, innovation in instruction, and/or extensive mentoring of undergraduate and/or graduate students.

The nomination packet should include:

- Nomination letter.
- Nominee's CV (any format).
- Nominee's recent full ICE scores (prior year or two is sufficient).
- Teaching philosophy or statement from nominee.
- Additional materials a nominee or nominator may wish to submit to assist in making their case.

Nominations will be reviewed by the college's Teacher of the Year committee (composed of the three most recent award winners). The committee will then submit their evaluations and recommendations to the Dean, who will make the final decision. Winners receive their name inscribed on a plaque displayed prominently in the Dean's Office suite and $500.

Nomination packets should be sent to mullinsc@siu.edu. Self-nomination is encouraged.
